1 Summary

The DENSE project is a research project funded by the Joint Undertaking “Electronic Components and Systems for European Leadership” (ECSEL JU). For the success of the project it is essential to inform the main stakeholders about the project’s progress and results.

This deliverable D6.2 Dissemination plan is the work plan for the dissemination task (T6.4) of the project. The dissemination plan identifies the project main stakeholders and collaboration partners. It contains detailed descriptions of the strategy and the means by which DENSE communicates its research activities and achievements to selected target audiences. And it also features DENSE visual identity.

For the project partners this document serves as a reference point for all information related to the communication and dissemination activities. It summarises the planned dissemination activities and tools to be used and explains approval procedures including roles and responsibilities of the consortium partners.

The overall goal is to provide a basis for the consistent communication of the project’s innovative character, its objectives and results.
